GREAT American and Foreign Office

—FOR—

Securing Patents for Inventions.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH THE U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby St., BOSTON.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The subscriber, (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office under the act of 1837,) determined to present advantages in applying for patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements, whereby, on application, personally or by letter, his services will be secured and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS, (the same as heretofore required, and no more, except in cases of appeal,) will be required by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the whole fee will, through him, without thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by those immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered by others elsewhere. The testimonials below given show that the MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The increased practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a rare collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, and these, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries, prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions and infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and ten times greater delay there, are here saved inventor.

Copies of the claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

☞ During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as solicitor for procuring Patents.—There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had as much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed professional Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in asserting favorably that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting the applications in a form to secure to them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

[From the present Commissioner.

Aug. 11, 1855—during the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as attorney. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice at the Office, and I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Comm'r of Patents.

TO CONSUMERS OF

PICKLES.

BELIEVING that the Public have become tired of purchasing Pickles in Pickages, holding, in many cases, fifty per cent. less than represented, we have condensed putting up, in addition to our present second size jar, an article which we are labelling "WM. UNDERWOOD & CO'S EXTRA PICKLES," and are filling into full sized jars, which are legibly stamped on the glass, with their exact contents in ounces—thus enabling the consumer to verify their truth.

These Extra Pickles are put up with every regard to style, quality and flavor, and will be sold at fairly remunerating prices.

We have made no change in our manner of Grocking Pickles, never having resorted to any deleterious means to retain the natural Cider Vinegar which we use is made from sound fruit, and is entirely free from Vitriol or any other mineral acid, which is not the case with that used in most brands of English Pickles found in this country.

Foot-Trip of a Trio Through Germany.

VII.

PRAGUE—ITS SITUATION—CHURCHES AND PALACES—JOHN NEPOMUK—PILGRIMAGES—WALLENSTEIN—MONASTERIES—SYNAGOGUE AND JEWISH BURIAL PLACE—POPULATION.

At the foot of the hill on which the Hradschin stands is the old palace of the great general Wallenstein—he who was almost an Emperor himself,—whose revenues were counted by millions, who could even raise more powerful armies than his lord, and who, after wielding for him battles when in the last extremities, was barbarously assassinated with the approval of that lord.

His palace was built in imperial grandeur.—An hundred houses are said to have been bought and torn away to make room for it.—Ferdinand had dismissed him from his favor and he came to this palace and held it in courts and was surrounded by a train which eclipsed that of the Emperor in splendor. Nobles attended him, and his pages were three score young men of noble birth. Sentinels paced before its doors, and this body guard of fifty soldiers in his own dress, stood ever ready to attend him. His three hundred horses ate from cribs of marble, and he journeyed with a train of fifty lordly carriages.

Wallenstein was in the glittering retirement when Gustavus Adolphus landed on the shores of the Baltic. Ferdinand laughed at the Swedish King and the little army he had brought to fight for the cause of Protestantism. But the righteous cause of that King went from conquest to conquest, and Ferd nand trembled. Wallenstein looked on the issues with the eye of a general, and deliberately waited for the time when he should be waited on by the haughty Ferdinand. And soon the ambassadors came, and Wallenstein coldly received them in greater state than they had left at the Imperial palace. He nearly knew the conditions, so humiliating to Ferdinand, for which alone he would again take command of the armies of the Empire, and they were accepted. Then he gathered armies which the Emperor could not raise; and it was he who, as with a charmed life, led the fierce battle of Lutzen where the immortal Swede fell.

We visited the Loretto Chapel, and we had long for our turn to its treasury. At last the old monk called us from the Chapel where we were wondering at the black image. We saw the robes of the image embroidered most exquisitely with straw, but more beautiful than the gold which it resembled. We saw, too, the costly plate of the Church, and lastly the famous monstrance of immense value, set with six thousand six hundred and sixty-six diamonds, which seemed to be the number of the Apocalyptical Beast, entire one degree farther.

We visited the Monastery of Strahow in whose church Tappenheim is buried, who fell at the same time with Gustavus at Lutzen.—The view of the city is most beautiful, for the Monastery is high on the "Little Side" close to the "Bread Wall"—and long paradises of gardens seen from it drop the Eye. But the most wonderful thing is its library apartment, a spacious hall with cartloads of polished walnut profusely gilded. There are some fifty thousand vols., a large share being Latin.

We searched for the tomb of Tycho Brahe the great Danish astronomer, who was not without honor save in his own country. It is in a church called the Thein church, and his effigy cut in red marble, as of a man who bore armor stands as his monument—the beautiful Latin sentiment

"EESA FOTUS QUAM MI LIBET."

"NON PARCES NEGO IS SOLA ARTIS SOLERTIA PERIMANT."

We felt a little interest to visit the relic treasury of the Cathedral. There are preserved "portions of the bones of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the Virgin Mary's pocket handkerchief, a piece of the true cross and a bit of the sponge which was placed on a hyssop, two thorns of the crown of thorns, one of the palm-branches strewed in Christ's way as he entered Jerusalem, besides an immense number of similar curiosities," all of course genuine.

But I will pass to other things. I need hardly speak of Huss, every child has heard of Huss and Jerome of Prague. His house is still pointed out.

And here is the University (for which Huss was rector, the oldest in Germany). Students from all lands came to receive instruction here in all departments. And how many were gathered here! So many that in one week twenty-five thousand seceded from it, and founded other Universities. Here it was that the exciting times of the reformation began, long ere Protestantism was established in Germany. The times succeeding the burning of Huss and Jerome at Constance were indeed stormy for Bohemia, and the also Emperor Sigismund himself took the field against the Hussites. He led an army of 150,000 men to Prague, but he found everything ready for his reception.—The one-eyed Ziska had cut the Hussite army to the hill just north of the city. Womanland children had contributed their labor to fortify it. Sigismund assaulted it in vain, and then Ziska came forth, and put him to flight in open battle.

A little farther out is the field of "The battle of Prague," a term so familiar to us all, when Frederick of Prussia defeated the armies of the Empress Francis I. of Austria.

An hour's walk west from Prague is the battle ground of White Hills, where it was decided four centuries ago that Bohemia should be Catholic. After this battle twenty-seven leaders of the Protestants were publicly executed. A large share were of noble birth, and the heads and hands of these were displayed ten years on the old tower which commands the bridge.

Apart from the Old City is called the Jews Town. Here the Jews are huddled together in filthy streets. They are not persecuted as formerly, and the present generation has no such dark scenes to be chronicled as their forefathers had. Once they were nearly all massacred by the people, under pretence that they had insulted the sacred wafers of the Catholic Communion.

This society of Jews are perhaps the most perfect Jewish of any in Europe. Their religious customs are carefully maintained.—We saw the inside of their oldest synagogue which is very curious. At present they have ten synagogues and this is used only on special festivals. It is exactly as it has been for hundreds of years. The little room is as black with smoke as though it had been eternally lighted with pitchy torches.

I asked one, "How old is your Synagogue?" He only shrugged his shoulders, and turned to another who immediately said "It is older than is written." The windows are more like cuts through the wall near the eaves like those of a dungeon. The laws are safely preserved in fire proof cases. On the left as we passed out was the little low apartment for females, for they may never enter the dark room of the holy books. They can hear through narrow apertures, but can see nothing and can not be seen. And how long ago did your colony come here? I asked. "It is older than Prague" said he.

We went to the old burial place,—the most impressive land of the dead of which I ever trod. It is a long narrow strip between high walls. An old Israelite unlocked the gate, and we were amid the piled up dust of perhaps forty generations. Indeed there are traditions that the Jews came here as slave-dealers among the Pagans, before the destruction of Jerusalem. The streets here are as without the wall but the earth has become a hill within.—It can no longer be used. The surfaces covered with tomb-stones huddled together, and the old sexton said there were others deep below the surface. The oldest of those standing bears date six centuries ago.

On many of the stones are tribe symbols.—The old man pointed us to the pitcher denoting Levi and a cluster for the mingled descendants of the ten tribes. "Do you still keep the lines distinct," I asked. "O yes," replied he, "though we marry together, the descent always goes carefully to the tribe of the father." We looked through the twin doors of a little chapel, and saw a priest in a robe always swaying backward to and fro. On the walls of the burial place is an old inscription,

"VENERATION TO THE PAST,
PRESERVATION OF OUR OWN,
REST TO THE DEAD."

Both must stop. You can hardly crowd through the streets of the Jewish trade. They eagerly nod if you to buy or sell. They would be glad to sell you anything from jewels to old rusty and hooked nails, or buy the handle of your broken knife.

Prague has a hundred and fifty thousand people, ten thousand Jews. There are nearly seventy churches and synagogues, and fifteen monasteries and convents. The interior of some of the Catholic churches is more resplendent than I have ever seen elsewhere. Gorgeous in such a case, the Bohemian is the proverbially religious of the people;—a Slavish language, rich in literature, and possessing six translations of the Bible before Luther's was given to Germany, but it is now falling to decay.

PENNSYLVANIA POLITICS—QUEER REVELATIONS.—Hon. Kenneth Rayner has been making a speech at Raleigh, N.C., in defence of his political career during the late Presidential canvass, especially in regard to the charge brought against him of having sought to aid in the election of Fremont. He acknowledged that he was desirous of accepting any measures that would defeat Buchanan, but denied that he had any sympathy for Fremont. After explaining his own course of action, he paid special attention to the Democrats and Straight Fillmore men of Philadelphia, and said that 'a gentleman of his acquaintance was approached by an old acquaintance from Pottsville, who told him if he would excite himself, not for the Democratic party, but for the Straight Fillmore ticket, $100,000 would be placed, to his credit in any bank he might select. This Fillmore ticket, he added, was the one supported by Mr. Sanderson, who, said Mr. R., it was well known, had not heard the jingle of a dollar for many a month; yet since the election he has been able to purchase a house worth $20,000.

THE COLD THURSDAY.—The extreme cold of Thursday last appears to have extended throughout all the northern section of the country, and well on towards the South.

At sunrise the mercury stood as follows:

In Bangor	18 below zero.
Calais	16 "
St. John, N. B.	14 "
Halifax	8 above.
Portland	10 below.
Montreal	20 "
Boston	8 "
Albany	7 "
Washington, D. C.	7 above.

On Tuesday night about 12 o'clock, the front window of Mr. Withers' watch and jewelry store on Kendaskeag Bridge was broken in by a burglar, but the rogue did not enter the store, and found only some articles of small value in the window, where he undoubtedly expected to find watches. He therefore made but little in the operation. Some of the articles taken were found on the sidewalk under the window. Mr. W. deposits his watches and other valuable goods in his safe, so that his loss is small.

The same night, Drummond's Grist Mill was broken into, and a few dollars worth of flour and meal taken away. This was found on Saturday at a house on Court street.

THE HUTCHINSONS.—The second and last Concert which these deservedly popular singers will give in this city, at this time, come off this (Monday) evening, at Norombega Hall.

As they are unable to give a Concert especially for the children, those from the schools will be admitted to this evening's entertainment at ten cents each.

The Hutchinsons are in excellent voice, and we have never heard them sing better than on Friday evening.

A BANGOR MAN PROMOTED.—We see that Mr. Wm. T. Hopkins, resident of our city some eight years since, a teacher of music and at the bar's time studying law we believe, has recently been elected Mayor of the city of Rockford, Illinois.

THE PEDDLER AND PATRIOT, or Humors of the West. By H. H. Riley. New York: Derby & Jackson, 1857.

This is one of the most interesting books of the season—full of genuine humor and quiet satire, with frequent touches of the highest and purest sentiment, and an exquisite appreciation of the beautiful in nature.

The graphic personifications of character in the Puddefordonians are exceedingly rich and true to nature. The trial in the action of Fallista Filkins vs. Charity Beadle, or slander in declaring that the plaintiff was "no better than she ought to be"—tried before Squire Longbow, and reported verbatim, with the arguments of counsel—is a most ludicrous characteristic of western peculiarities, and beats Sam Slick's illustrations out-and-out.—Puddeford is a new village of the great West, but not to be found on any map. The author says of these interesting tales, they cannot properly be classed either as romance or pure history, although "facts compose not only their basis but their framework and substance." In them he attempts to show the course of human life behind the scenes of courts, par laments and battles and bring our ancestors before us as they lived with neighbors and servants, their wives and their children."

The first part is "The Exiles," and its incidents are drawn from the times of Henry the Eighth, in the 16th century, and his persecution of those who denied his Supremacy as "Head of the Church."

The second part is, "The Adventurers,"—narrating events and transactions occurring in the Netherlands, with which the public has become familiar through Prescott's recent History of Phi ip the Second.

And the third, gives a view of domestic life in the "Old Colony," of Alcorion in the days of the Pilgrims.

The tales are all connected with the fortunes of one family of pilgrims.

HUMAN FOR THE HOLIDAYS, or the Pleasures and Pains of Freedom. Boston: Crosby, Nichols & Co. 1857. 2

This is another of the admirable translations from German tales so popular with our young people,—and a beautiful book for the gift season. It is illustrated with handsome colored engravings.

Mr. Lunt, at his Dancing Academy, Union Block, has various classes now under way, and acts with good success. A Juvenile class commenced on Wednesday afternoon; and he has also an afternoon class for ladies, besides his regular classes for adults. There is an evening class for gentlemen. His rooms are pleasant and well arranged, and strict attention is paid to his pupils. See his advertisement.

A call has been issued in New York for a Nicaragua sympathy meeting, to be held in the Tabernacle on Saturday evening. The names of Governor Price of New Jersey, ex-Governors Smith of Virginia, Brown of Mississippi and Jones of Tennessee, and Senators Cass, Douglas, Mason, &c., are among those announced as speakers.

A rapid change in the weather took place on Saturday—terminating in a warm southerly rain-storm during the night, which has, as we write, not yet known. On Sunday morning a cold set in with wind at N. W. and growing colder.

The Messrs. Woodroffe gave their last exhibition of fancy glass blowing in this city, on Saturday evening last. During the evening they distributed by means of some elegant specimens of their work. We understand that they will exhibit at Oldtown to-morrow evening, and perhaps remain there several days. The exhibition is very interesting, and each visitor will be presented with a specimen equal in value to the price of admission.

MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE AT STOCKPORT.—A CHILD KILLED IN THE ARMS OF ITS MOTHER.—A heart-rending occurrence took place in Stockport, Columbia county, N. Y., in which a child was killed while in the arms of its mother, and by her watch. Mrs. Dickerman was sitting in a room with her child, a boy of about two years of age, upon her lap, engaged in dressing it, while at the same time her sister, Miss Platner, was cutting the wick of a candle, with a pair of scissors. The sisters were engaged in earnest conversation, when Miss Platner, in a fit of rage, threw the scissors at her sister with great force, the point striking the child upon his breast, penetrating to the heart. The innocent little one exclaimed, "O, mother!" to mother, and immediately expired. Mrs. Dickerman did not see her sister throw the scissors, and was not conscious of what had been done until she saw the infant dead from the wound inflicted in his breast. A coroner's jury was called, who, after a full investigation of the affair, rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts. Miss Platner is now confined in the Hudson jail to await the action of the grand jury.—Albany Journal.

A BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE.—The following touching, simple and sorrowful memorial of his wife, was written by one of the greatest statesmen of England—Sir James Mackintosh,—in a private letter to a friend:—"She was a woman," he writes, "who, by tender management of my weaknesses, gradually corrected the most vexatious of them. She became prudent from affection; and though of the most generous nature, she was taught frugality and economy by her love for me. During the most critical period of my life, she preserved order, in my affairs, from the ruin of which she relieved me. She gently reclaimed me from dissipation, she stopped my weak and irresolute nature; she roused my indolence to all the exertions that have been useful and creditable to me, and she was perpetually at hand to astonish my thoughtlessness and improvidence. To her I owe whatever I shall be. In her solicitude for my interest, she never for a moment forgot my character. Her feelings were warm and impetuous, but she was placable, tender and constant. Such was she whom I have lost; and I have lost her when a knowledge of her worth had refined my youthful love into friendship, before age had deprived it of much of its original ardor. I seek relief and I find it, in the consolatory opinion that a benevolent wisdom inflicts the chastisements we will not believe the enjoyment of human life; that this dreamy and wretched life is not the whole of man; that a being capable of such profoundness as once one virtuous heart like this beats, that there is a dwelling-place prepared for the spirits of the just; that the ways of God will yet be vindicated to man."

PRECARIOUS CONDITION OF THE LOWER PART OF SAN FRANCISCO.—FALL OF A BLOCK OF BUILDINGS.—On the evening of the 16th ult. several men were getting into a frame building on Clay, the East street, which they felt the wind shaking, and they rushed into the street. The next moment the piles which supported the house gave way, and the building fell with a crash into the bay beneath. Within a few minutes afterwards the adjoining buildings, extending from Clay to Commercial streets, to the extent of about two hundred feet square, gave way and fell in, together with their contents, creating a general wreck. Several men who were in these houses were precipitated into the bay, and received severe contusions but in no case did the injuries received prove fatal to life. The stores were all occupied by goods dealers. The total loss, including the buildings on Commercial street, and to here on Clay street, was about $15,000. The cause of this catastrophe was attributed to the famous boring worms, which have for so long a time been eating away and destroying the foundations of the lower part of the city.

EARLY RISING.—Bishops Jewell and Burnet rose every morning at four o'clock. Sir Thomas More did the same thing. Napoleon was an early riser, so were Frederick the Great, Charles, the Twelfth and Washington. Sir Walter Scott, during the greater part of his life, rose by five o'clock; and his literary work was accomplished chiefly before breakfast.—Franklin and nearly all the great men of the American continent were early risers; so were Daniel Webster and John Q. Adams. That early rising is conducive to prolong life appears to be clearly proved. One of the most eminent judges of England—Lord Mansfield—was at the age of eighty presiding, some curious evidence on this subject. While he presided in the judicial capacity over the court, he questioned every old person who appeared at the bar respecting his habits, and all agreed on one point—that of being early risers.

We always publish such items as the above, because they may have a good effect on others.—Portland Adv.

A GALLANT SAILOR.—A telegraph despatch from Provincetown states that the schooner Banner, Capt. Verril, of and from Rockland, with a cargo of lime, went ashore Monday two miles from Race Point, yesterday morning, at 2 o'clock, and all hands would probably have been lost, but for the gallant daring of the intrepid Newfoundland dog belonging to the captain. Notwithstanding the extreme severity of the weather, he jumped overboard, with a line, and swam on shore with it. This enabled him to haul a rope on shore, and by it all hands were saved. The dog's name we will not be given, but we hope the Humane Society will find it out, and reward him. A handkerchief to the owner of the dog. The schooner, as we learn, was on fire, and would become a total loss.—Ellsworth American.

FIRE.—The dwelling house of Mr. Wm. Gard of Mariaville was consumed by fire on the 11th inst.

The grain raised on the farm had been threshed and put into the chamber and was destroyed. Mr. Gard's loss is about $500.—Ellsworth American.

THE SIOUX DEFEATED A CHIPPEWAS INDIANS.—Gen. Sibley, of Minnesota, on the 23d ult. intervened to settle the murder of Dakota women last year. The Chippewas met all the horrid terms inflicted on them, with indifference. He was burned at a slow fire, and lingered several hours.

MADAME LOLA MONTEZ.—Among the passengers by the steamship Tennessee, to Madame Lola Montez, who has been sojourning in California for some years. She has been absent from Paris nearly six years.—N. Y. Register.

SAM SLICK'S BARGAIN.—"You will find," said the Doctor, "10 men (I except the other sex always) are as acute as you are at a bargain. You are more likely to be bitten than to bite, if you try that game on them." "Do you a dollar" said I. "I sell that old coon as easy as a clock." "What! Chesapeake and a hatch for a Yankee!" Come, I like that—that is good. Here goes for a trial at any rate."

"Mounseer, sah-r, have you any wood to sell?" "We didn't sell no wood, but it don't do to begin to ask for what you want, for you can't do nothing."

"Yes," said the.

"What's the price," said I, cash down on the nail?"

I knew the order would see the "point" of cash down with the blunt.

"It's ten dollars and a half," said he, "a cord at Halifax, and it don't cost me nothing to carry it there, for I have my own shallop—but I will sell it for ten dollars to oblige you."

That was just seven dollars more than I was worth.

"Well," said I, "that's not high, only cash is scarce." If you will take mackerel in pay at six dollars a barrel, (which was two dollars more than its value) I'll go we might trade.—Could you sell me twenty cord?"

"Yes, may be twenty-five."

"About the mackerel," said I.

"Ah," said he, "mackerel is worth only three dollars and a half at Halifax. I can't sell mine over at that. I have sixty barrels numbered one, for sale."

"If you will promise me to let me have all the wood I want, more or less," said I, "even if it is over so little, or as much as thirty cords, at ten dollars a cord, cut and stack maple and yellow birch, then I will take all your mackerel at three dollars and a half, money down."

"Say four," said he.

"No," said I, "you say you can't get but three and a half at Halifax, and I won't beat you down or advance one cent myself. But mind, if I oblige you by buying all your mackerel, you must oblige me by letting me have all the wood I want."

"Done," said he.

So we warped into the wharf and took the fish aboard and paid him the money, and cleared off from Pugwash by the operation.

"Now," says I, "where is the wood?"

"All this is mine," said he, pointing to a pile, containing about fifty cords.

"Can I have it all, if I want it?" said I.

He took off his cap and scratched his head—scratching the human think amazingly.—He thought he had better ask a little more than ten dollars, as I appeared ready to buy at any price. So he said,

"Yes, you may have it all at ten and a half dollars."

"I thought," says I, "you said I might have what I wanted at ten."

"Well, I have changed my mind," said he, "it is too low."

"And so have I," said I. "I won't trade with a man that acts that way," and I went on board and the men cast off and began to warp the vessel again up to her anchor.

Lewis took off his cap and began scratching his head again, he had overreached himself. Expecting an immense profit on his wood, he had sold his fish very low; he saw that I was in earnest and jumped on board.

"Captain, you will have him at ten, so much as you want of him."

"Well, measure me off half a cord."

"But didn't you say you wanted twenty or thirty cords?"

"No," says I. "You said that I might have but much if I wanted it, but I don't want it; it is only worth three dollars and you have the modesty to ask ten, then ten and a half; but I will take half a cord to please you—so measure it off."

He stormed, and raved, and swore, and threw his cap down on the deck and jumped on it, and stretched out his arms as if he was going to fight, and stretched out his wizzened face, as if to make hollering easier, and foamed at the mouth like an hoss that eat lobelia in his hay.

RESENTING A PUN.—An Irish weaver just imported from the Emerald Isle, took to his employer, in Kilmarnock, Scotland, lately, the first cloth he had woven since his arrival.

Upon examination, his employer detected two holes in the piece, within half an inch of each other, and told him he must pay a fine of a shilling for each hole.

"And, pleas yer honor, is it be the number of holes, or the size of them, that ye put the fine on us?" said Paddy.

"By the number of holes, to be sure."

"And a big hole and a small hole is the same price?"

"Yes."

"Then some one hould ov the piece," replied Paddy.

It was knocked to him, when, with his fingers deliberately thro the two small holes into one, triumphantly exclaiming,

"Ho the piper ov Moses, but that'll save me a shilling anyhow."

The good natured employer laughed heartily at the odd experiment, and forgave poor Paddy his fine.

WISTAR'S BALSAM of WILD CHERRY

Has established for itself a reputation that cannot be raised. Dr. Wm. A. Shaw, of Washington, N. C., writes under date of May 1, as follows: "I have heard of many cases of decided beneficial effects from its use, especially in Asthma and Chronic Coughs of spasmodic character. I have used the Wild Cherry a great deal in practice, and with marked good results."

"Every one knows the reputation of the Turpentine and Balsam combined in pectoral coughs. The combination of these principles in WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, is a genius and judicious.

"Medicines so justly distinguished of Patent Medicines in general, but candor must discriminate between outrageous nostrums and humbugs, and those medicines which have proved salutary, and in many well-attested cases, curative."

Kansas.—The Lawrence correspondent of the Missouri Democrat writes as follows, under date of the 7th inst.

The bogus Territorial Legislature recently elected, meets in Lecompton early next month. Gov. Geary is expected to do all he can to have the most obnoxious enactments repealed.

The Free State Legislature, elected by the people, meets about the same time in Topeka. Interference by the Federal troops, or by Excellency Gov. Geary is not expected by many of our people. Gov. Robinson and Lieutenant Gov. Roberts are both now in Kansas, and early in January they will be at Topeka ready to act in their official capacity."

A letter of the 8th, from Topeka, says:

"In a little less than four weeks the Free State Legislature will be in this city. Whether Col. Sumner will be here with his dragoons to disperse it, is not known. It seems that the President was not willing to take the responsibility of Summer's acts in dispersing the Legislature in July last at the point of the bayonet, and the old bull of the woods will not again be caught raping old Cromwell, without he has a President to back him. What course Gov. Geary will take is not yet known; but it is generally believed he will not interfere, and the Legislature for the Free State of Kansas will go on swimmingly."

The charge has repeatedly been made, and as often denied, by the Democratic papers, that the letters to and from Kansas were opened and read by the border ruffian Postmasters in that Territory and vicinity. On this point we have the testimony of Gov. Geary, who says:

"Every package addressed to me through the mail is broken and inspected before it reaches my hands. It is entirely useless to send information through the Post Office, and more especially to use that medium, to forward anything of pecuniary value."

From the New York Times.

LETTER FROM GEN. WALKER.—The letter we publish below from Nicaragua, was received from Gen. Walker by the last steamer. We are informed that Gen. Walker has been amply supplied within the last few weeks with various munitions of war, including most of the improved incendiary missiles used at Sebastopol, and some perfected since.

Extract from a letter from Gen. Walker, President of Nicaragua, to a friend in New York, dated—

VIRGIN BAY, Monday, Dec. 1, 1856.

You will, doubtless, get full accounts of the late events here from the newspapers. I consider that our permanent power in Central America never has been so firm a basis as now; nor do I know of one single month since I have been in Nicaragua wherein we have made as much progress towards final results as the month which has just ended. I remain with regard, &c.

WM. WALKER.

Nevertheless, the opinion of leading officers of the army of Gen. Walker, who have recently returned from Nicaragua, is that his rule in that country is about over. The Louisville Courier published such a statement previous to the reception of the late news, in order to put a stop to the recruiting going on in that State.

The correspondent of the Boston Daily Advertiser, writing from Washington under date of the 18th, says:

"The Committee on Territories, in response to a petition which has been numerously signed by the people of Minnesota, to-day agreed to report a bill authorizing them to form a constitution and State government."

No action has yet been taken in relation to Arizona.

A census of Minnesota has just been concluded. It shows that the total population is 170,000; St. Paul city 12,000, St. Anthony and Minneapolis 4,000 each.

Card to the Public

Bickford defines his position!

I MUST TELL my numerous friends, the good humored public, that my arrangements for the winter season are now complete, by which I am to be daily supplied with abundance of OYSTERS, FRESH FISH, CHOICE FRUIT, and other articles for the supply of my Stalls at the Market House.

Speaking of OYSTERS—I wish it understood that I furnish them raw, or cooked in any style, cold or hot, at my Eating Room, or to families or parties at any time or any place. If you wish to refresh your friends with a really nice Oyster Stew, let Bickford know it, and it shall appear upon your table, as if by the enchantment of Aladdin's Lamp. So, too, of the richest PASTRY, in all varieties.

FRESH FISH, in all their varieties, in their season.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Bickford is devoutly thankful for past favors, and looks hopefully forward to the future. Allow me to say parenthetically, and almost pathetically, that the times are getting rather hard, and therefore it is all important that those who have neglected to pay their Bills should do so at once, for I wish to be on friendly terms with every body.

My Eating Stall at the Market is elegantly supplied, and will be found exceedingly convenient for strangers, gentlemen and ladies, and for those detained from their meals.

Call in—call out—and all will be well.

River and fervorously,

THOMAS BICKFORD.

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

It has Worked Miracle!

THAT ALL THE BALD AND GRAY, can be restored perfectly to original growth and color, as far as their locks are concerned, does not admit of doubt; besides, it will cure every possible disease of the scalp, whether developed as hereditary blindness or in the shape of cutaneous eruptions, dry scald head—and in no possible case will it fail of giving life by acute, nervous or periodical Headache, and if used switch a week by the young registered, it will preserve the color, and keep the hair from falling to any length of age. Read and judge!

McLEAN, Worcester Co., Mass., Nov. 10, 1855.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Sir: I have taken pleasure in bearing voluntary testimony to the magic effects of your wonderful Hair Restorative. So far back as 1838, my locks commenced turning grey, till the top of my scalp became bald and smooth as an egg, and I had used up half a dozen bottles of various preparations for the hair, which I had purchased with many years' unavailing hope to restore my locks to their natural color. Seeing your advertisement, I was induced to give it a trial, and to my utter astonishment, before I had used a fourth application, that very hair became fly to set, and grasshopper and beautiful as ever, which is now in the possession of the same, after the lapse of twenty years. Yours truly,

HENRY GODDRICH.

CHARLESTOWN, Va., 20 Aug., 1855

DEAR SIR:—Nothing but a sense of duty could induce me to communicate to others the astonishing effects which your Restorative has had upon me. I have been for years afflicted with a disease of the scalp, which rendered me a perfect object of disgust to my friends and myself. I have purchased the Restorative in this vicinity, and by half a bottle entirely cured its effects—cooling, tranquilizing and nourishing the roots of the hair in the space of a few weeks. My head is now as clear and healthy as the day I was born, and my hair is growing as fast as it can, and I am confident it will soon be as long as ever it was. Yours, &c.,

MRS. R. A. STODDALD.

From Mrs. Segalla, a well known actress in Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 6, 1855

DEAR SIR:—At your request, and for the benefit of the afflicted, I am free to state that my head has become quite bald, and entirely white, for the last five years, during which time I have tried every thing recommended for the restoration of my hair, but to no purpose, till I was induced to try it. My hair has become restored to its original thickness, and also to its former color, which is quite known. Yours respectfully,

MRS. INGALLS.

Such testimony is from the pen of the Orchestra Queen, Brookfield Jones.

BOSTON, Nov. 1, 1855

DEAR WOOD—Dear Sir:—I avail myself of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say that it has effectually succeeded in removing inflammation, dandruff, and a constant tendency to itching, with which I have been troubled from my infancy, and has also restored my hair, which was becoming grey, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same gratifying result. Yours truly,

J. K. BEAGG.

(From the Jersey City Telegraph.)

WHAT IS IT FOR?—THE WORD IS A HISTORICAL QUESTION, and is frequently asked daily by thousands throughout the nation, in search of information, in fact of communication, that is the only article known which will restore to all its original color, life, and beauty, the hair of the head, without injury to the skin, and which restores the natural secretion, so that a healthy, luxuriant growth and beautiful appearance, is the result. This is the only article known which will do this, and is now offered to the afflicted and public at large, and growing into favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of consumers and the trade to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly patronized, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed is equal to 1½ lbs. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This fast coming popular article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, and many of the best trade mark hand made, can be relied upon as the cost and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

PARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root. This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is relished by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the genuine article; the proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, but it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and need no high estimation; for all who use it, it is being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, when the mixed with coffee, not, as that suits the taste and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pound of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent Physicians, as a healthful beverage for invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

☞ In order to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ T. Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount to enable them to supply their customers at the same low rates.

TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our articles and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world. In all the various trades, and in sewing every sort of fabric, either of cloth or leather they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufactures often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY, being strong, durable, and complete in contrivance and workmanship. A perfect Sewing Machine, kept employed affords a clear profit of $1000 a year, and an imperfect one is a cause of constant vexation and loss. The entire reliability of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled popularity

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING, of a fine and delicate construction, are recommended or other manufactures. Such machines are made to catch the eye, not to perform substantial work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes, must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

New machines, of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines, of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N. B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "I. M. Singer & Co's Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

DEMOPOLIS, Marengo Co., Ala., 20th Dec., 1855.

Dr. J. C. AYER: I deem it my duty to inform you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of your CHERRY PECTORAL. For years, on the approach of winter, I was confined to my house with a cough, and was unable to preach. Your PECTORAL has relieved me entirely, and enabled me to discharge my duties in the pulpit. I have no doubt it has saved my life. I am now in the South, and have no cough, nor any symptom of disease. My friends here appreciate your skill, and recommend your medicine to their confidence.

Yours, with great respect,

J. HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

MOSELLE, Co. of Montgomery, Ga., writes, 3d January, 1856: I had a bad cold and influenza, with soreness of throat, for six weeks; took many medicines without relief, finally tried your PECTORAL, by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and cough, and less than one bottle made me completely well. Your medicine is, in this community, in the highest repute, and wherever you, Doctor, and your remedies are known, you are a friend.

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

MANCHESTER, Pa., Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is curing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved me, in my family, of attacks of croup, and of bronchitis, and I now find it a most excellent remedy for the latter complaint. I have used it, myself, for a cough, and am entirely cured by it. My wife has been relieved of a severe cough, of long standing, by the use of this remedy. I am daily receiving letters from persons who have been cured by your PECTORAL.

HENRY L. PARKE, Merchant.

ALABAMIA, Miss., Marion Co., Iowa, Sept. 6, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is doing a very extensive business in this section. I have nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL in the market, and can recommend it to consumptive patients, or coughs and colds are enemies.

A. ALABASTER, M. D.

My neighbor and relatives have all been cured of their coughs, colds, and settled consumptions by your CHERRY PECTORAL. Parents should not be without it in their families.

HENRY L. PARKE, Merchant.

Consumption.

CHARLESTOWN, Va., Nov. 15, 1855.

DR. AYER: I have never been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some of my friends, after all other remedies had failed, were cured entirely by your CHERRY PECTORAL, and restored to health and comfort.

Rev. EDWARD HAMMOND.

BARON HUMBOLDT, New York City, March 5, 1856.

DR. AYER: I feel it my duty to inform you that a bottle of your CHERRY PECTORAL has relieved me from a severe attack of Consumption, after which no old remedy could produce the least effect. I was induced to try your PECTORAL from reading the certificate of Mr. Parke, of this city, whose case was considered hopeless. I procured a bottle of your PECTORAL, and before it was half gone, I was entirely relieved. I am now in the enjoyment of health, and consider your PECTORAL the best medicine for Consumption in the world.

BARON HUMBOLDT.

ORLANDO SHERRY, of Natchitoches, La., writes: I have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for the last twelve years, and have found it the best medicine for Coughs, Colds, and Consumption we have ever used. It has never failed to cure, and I have no hesitation in saying it is the best medicine in the world for Children.

Extract from Rev. Dr. Cummings' Lectures.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE wonderful efficiency and medical value of these Pills are now so well known to the public, that it is only necessary to assure the people that they are fully equal to the best they have ever used or taken. Their sugar coating renders them pleasant to take, and they are the safest and most effectual purgative that can be employed for children. Being purely vegetable, they are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made of the most desperate character, by their use, of diseases supposed incurable, and where the patient had taken large quantities of other cathartic pills in vain. Even those who are suffering only from indigestion, biliousness, foul stomach, loss of appetite, or sick headache, will find these Pills an excellent remedy, causing the food to digest, and the stomach and bowels to act with energy. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, the safest aperient that can be employed in families, as they contain no calomel or mercury. Being sugar coated, they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made in cases of Dropsy, Rheumatism, Gout, Erysipelas, Neuralgia, Headache, Piles, and Worms, which are literally beyond the reach of ordinary remedies, and which yield promptly to the influence of these antidotes. Many of the most eminent physicians in the country have given certificates of the virtues of these Pills, and the proprietor is constantly receiving testimonials of their wonderful cures of the afflicted in his own neighborhood.

Numerous preparations of Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and various modes of preparing them have been given, all of which of course will differ according to the mode of preparation which each individual may adopt.

These medicines require considerable care in the preparation, and the employment of different menstrua in addition to a successful operation to take up the extractive matters, and, in consequence, are most frequently improperly made, and not infrequently, if made, imparted if not rendered totally inert, by the injudicious and unskillful management of those unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations.
